Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.

FRONT ROW: Linda Niggel, John Costanza, Candy Butch, Alice Cuzic, Mike McCarthy. BACK ROW: Mary Jane Morocco, Andy Salaka, Orrin Camp.

In the following pages the 1966 ECHO Staff is attempting to depict the school as a bridge between youth and adulthood.

The ECHO is a mirror reflecting pleasant memories spent with faculty and friends during the past year.

With the spirit and ideals of Lowellville High School in our minds and hearts, we, the staff proudly give you the 1966 ECHO.

MR. BRAYER—Advisor

... as a proud family man

... hard at work

For his expressed interest in teaching and in his pupils
 For his ability to motivate learning and stimulate thought
 For his ceaseless patience, understanding, and guidance
 For his concern, enthusiasm, and cheerfulness—

We, the graduating class of Lowellville High School, proudly dedicate this thirty-sixth edition of the "Echo" to Mr. Paul V. Johnson as an expression of our most sincere gratitude and admiration. In our fondest memories Mr. Johnson will always remain.

THIS is the time of year when the film industry—the writers, the actors, the technicians, the producers, the distributors, the exhibitors, the exhibitors, the exhibitors—celebrates its annual awards ceremony. It is a time of great excitement and anticipation, a time when the industry comes together to honor the best of the year.

ROCKEETER

As the house lights dimmed, George Sidney, a venerable director who has been president of the guild for 16 of its 30 years, announced that he had decided to...

the stage with a hand microphone, Sidney announced his list of five nominees for the best movie director's award. The list consisted of Sidney Furie ("The Ipcress File"), Sidney Lumet ("The Pawnbroker"), John Schlesinger ("Darling"), Elliot Silverstein ("Cat Ballou") and Robert Wise ("The Sound of Music").

Lone Old Hand

The nominee was a surprise. Of the five, only "Young Furie" and "The Sound of Music" were well known to the audience. The other three were not well known. Sidney Furie and Sidney Lumet were the only "Young" directors in the audience. "Why, then, teen-agers," said the director who was presiding at his silent film day, old Bobby Wise.

George Sidney, however, was not eager to give away his secret. Putting aside a sealed envelope which he said contained the winner's name, Sidney confided, "Hitchcock taught me the importance of suspense." He then launched into an hour-long succession of introductions and awards. He had 20 minutes of praise to heap upon Vittorio De Sica who was at a ringside table.

Sidney also waxed eloquent about another venerable industry figure, William Wyler, who was on hand to receive the D. W. Griffith Award. "We're honoring William Wyler for his years not for his talent," he said, after ticking off a long and imposing list of his credits. The introduction of Wyler seemed to generate a wave of nostalgia.

a film in the Far East.

At the evening's end the directors made their way to their limousines, their earlier mood of protest and alarm somewhat assuaged. If the rock 'n' roll music and the nominations of the "Young Turks" had upset their equilibrium, the honors afforded Wise and "The Sound of

On February 3 I was interviewed for two hours by a reporter. We spoke of many aspects of directing plays and films. On reading the article printed in last Sunday's New York Times I was startled to find that what I was quoted as having said does not reflect

While it was being edited and scored in London, I was directing a play for Broadway. Months ago I went to London for four days to see a rough cut of the film. I made many suggestions which I know were accepted and are now part of the finished film. I expect to see the film this week.

In all other decisions regarding the movie I participated completely. I, in no way, disavow this film. I believe the article gave a different impression.

The choice of location of the filming was one I made with the producer, Sam Spiegel. I explained to the reporter the reasons for our mutual decision to film in Hollywood. I must go into them here as an example of the late shift of meaning to place. The film reports nights of shoot-in evening to dawn. I'd never have lit an exas town incessantly brightly night after without drawing the of the local citizens on ads long before the ights had passed. With the technical crew there was no question of my admiration for their competence and knowledge. What differences existed between us were created by my wish for a more unorthodox image. To suggest that I have a "New York crew" is an error. I have made two pictures in Hollywood, one in New York and one in Chicago, each time

NICK NERO—6' Forward

The highlight of Nick's career was playing at the Canton game in his sophomore year. He has been outstanding in his dribbling, rebounding, and shooting.

MIKE MCCARTHY—5' 7" Guard

Mike will always be noted for his swift passing and maneuvering. He could be relied on to put in those needed points.

GEORGE SLAVEN—6' 1½" Center

George will never forget the McDonald game during which he broke his arm. His shooting and rebounding will always be remembered.

VARSITY BASKETBALL RESUME

The 1965-1966 basketball team under the coaching of Mr. Williams and Mr. Rich ended with a 11 and 7 record.

The desire to win was the main objective of the boys throughout the season. On several occasions they were both smaller and weighed less than their opponents. As the season progressed it became evident that the team had great potential. Their upsetting the top ranked Canfield Cardinals verified this fact.

During the Christmas Vacation the Rockets participated in the Union Christmas Tourney. Wilmington was the Rockets first opponent and Laurel was their second. The Tourney began with the Rockets being defeated by Wilmington and ended with a victory over Laurel.

The season progressed to depict the Rockets as fine material for the tournament at Struthers. Their first foe was Sebring. The game was one of tension until, in the third quarter, it became evident that victory was in sight for the Rockets. With confidence in their hearts and skill in their hands they prepared to meet Southern Local.

TRACK RESUME

The Rockets had only a fair season in track in 1965. They won only two dual meets while losing four. They were third in the triangular meet. They lost their first county meet after three straight titles, finishing second to a tough North Lima team. They had a very disappointing day at the Inter-county meet finishing second to McDonald and North Lima who were tied for the top spot. Another disappointment was the fact that they failed to qualify any boy in the District meet at Struthers. That meet ended their schedule abruptly. A very encouraging note is that most of the boys will be returning for the 1966 season.

Here is a rundown of the meets.

FOOTBALL RESUME

The 1965 football squad was a hard fighting team with determination and desire. These elements helped them to overcome the odds against them and was also responsible for the near victory over the Inter-County Champs, Mineral Ridge. The injuries inflicted on several of the first string players caused hardships for both the Rockets and their coaches, Mr. Kriz and Mr. Rich. But despite these obstacles, the Rockets continued to give their best in the remaining games.

It was the first year of coaching for assistant coach, Mr. Rich. Both he and Mr. Kriz will be working hard for the success of the 1966 football squad. This year's seniors would like to wish the Rockets great success in their 1966 football season.

We're Proud, Too

Parents and families aren't the only ones who are proud of this year's graduating class. We, too, have several reasons to congratulate the seniors and extend our sincere best wishes.

To begin with, our companies provide materials which are used both directly and indirectly in school construction. In addition, our companies pay industrial taxes and our employees pay real estate taxes which are used to help run the schools.

As good citizens, we are pleased to support this community . . . which in turn has supported us by using our industrial and agricultural products for so many years.

"There is many a battle that's yet to be won,
There is many a glorious deed to be done.
The world is still young! For the youth at its door
There are tasks some shall do, never dreamed of before
It is not an old world, worn and wrinkled and gray,
It's a world that is being reborn every day."

Since you didn't CHOOSE the period of history in which to be alive . . . . aren't you the lucky ones to have happened on this age?

Why, you're practically sitting on the edge of space, with no limits at all to your potential! Whatever the field you choose just now, it's waiting for a "break-thru."

Enter Science—and you'll head for the moon. Choose Medicine—and you and your generation will probably stamp out most of the major dreads of humanity. Take the Arts—and you're on the verge of real excitement: new ways in which even the government is helping to spread the joys of it all!

How lucky you are, new graduate!
